The SPAC is Back

For those of you that attended my last class, you know I was excited about Special Purpose Acquisition Companies SPACs. They provide an alternative way for a company to go public and list on an exchange. The process used is a reverse merger and holds many benefits to the company wanting to go public. I have found that buying SPAC's properly can be just as lucrative for the investor as buying IPO's out of a first stage base.

Last week the market focused on SPACs like Luminar Technologies (LAZR) and this SPAC as well as others really started to move.

That is why my weekend report will focus on a SPAC I am watching that is ready to break out of a base with massive stock accumulation. Watch for more SPACs to come as this group shows greater strength.

Let's get you ready for the trading floor next week!

- Buy Candidate: Newborn Acquisition Corp (NBAC)
- NBAC is a Chinese SPAC that merged with a battery charging company called Nuvve Corporation. They compete with Blink Charging Co. (BLNK). A company we did well with a couple of weeks ago. Nuvve Corp has better technology called Vehicle-to-Grid (V2G). Unused power during charging process goes back on the grid.
- Industry Group: Blank Check/Special Purpose Acquisition Company (SPAC).
- Start position as 3-star ()
- NBAC closed at 15.44 on Friday. The futures had it trading at 16 on Friday.
- If NBAC opens above the trendline at 15.57 on Monday, buy up to 16.13 (refer to chart)
- Otherwise wait for pullback to 14.50-14.81 range.
- Under massive stock accumulation with an Up/Down volume ratio of 3.6.
- NBAC is completing pullback from merger announcement.
- Buy between 14.81 and 16.13.
- Target sell price: 29.28 and 29.70.
- Stop out price: Close below 13.48.

- This is a growth story of a new technology setting up in an IPO cup-with-handle base.
- Start position as 3-star ()
- Buy at 13.63 breaking trendline of cup in cup-with-handle base. (refer to graph)
- EH closed on Friday at 13.45.
- Buy when price trades above 30-minute buy signal at 13.63.

- Buy Update: Bit Digital Inc. (BTBT)
- BTBT is a bucking bronco with the recent volatility. This will be worth the ride, but if the volatility is too much for you decrease your position size. This usually keeps me in a volatile trade without exiting too soon.
- The reason you should dig your heels in on BTBT is because of the accumulation I am seeing in Bitcoin. Bitcoin proxy (GBTC) has the most accumulation I am seeing in the entire market right now. This usually leads to big things. Stay the course.
- Buy Grayscale Bitcoin Trust (GBTC) if available to trade at your firm.
- If you can buy Grayscale Bitcoin Trust (GBTC) where you trade stocks, Buy GBTC.
- I can't buy GBTC at my firm, that is why I bought BTBT.
- Buy GBTC as close as you can to 22.51. That is the 2.618 expansion number and support. (refer to chart)
- Sell GBTC at my target of 42.77-43.83.

- Buy Update: Oil and Gas Stocks
- Oil and gas industry groups have continued to move higher along with the price of oil. Light sweet crude broke out of a cup-with-handle base formation on Friday. This will add fuel to the oil stock move.
- TFR buy recommendations of Sanchez Midstream (SNMP) and Tengasco Inc. (TGC) are modestly higher from recommended buy prices.
- Continue to hold shares of SNMP and TGC.
- SNMP breaking trendline at .71 will send shares higher. (refer to chart)
- TGC breaking trendline at 1.24 will send shares higher (refer to chart)
- I will be adding an Oil and Gas Field Services company soon.
- I have additional buys in Oil & Gas US Exploration industry group I am watching for buy points.
